FEBRUARY 2026
MESSAGE FROM THE EAST

Brethren,

FROM DARKNESS TO LIGHT
(By W. Bro. Dr. K. Jyothindra Kumar)

Our forefathers have taught us in their writings and by word of mouth, that man is dual or has two elements, - the human and divine and these are represented or symbolised in Freemasonry by the Square and the Compasses. The square "is an instrument which brings rude matter into due form" and is a symbol of that moral law which every individual must observe in order to be "a fit member of a regularly organised society". The axiom that one who builds a house must observe the laws and principles of engineering, lest the structure should fall has been long with us. Analogously, an individual or a mason who does not observe the moral laws in the building up of his character sooner or later will face a collapse of the "inner temple building" and is likely to be materially or spiritually reduced to "the lowest ebb of poverty and distress". Thus, the square symbolises moral character; and in the grand design of Speculative Masonry it is considered emblematically a great light alike the beacon from a light house to a ship in its directions and moorings.

Fraternally,
James P. Crowther
Worshipful Master
